Lincoln arc welding equipment

Even tougher than the treatment it gets

Lincoln. It's the equipment designed and built to take rough treatment in tough places.

Like mining. Construction sites. Oil rigs. Pipelines. Outback and offshore. Anywhere the going's likely to be tough or the weather extreme. Anywhere that breakdowns would be more than just inconvenient.

It's this take-it-for-granted toughness and reliability that makes Lincoln the only serious choice for hire companies.

You can't change people's habits. But you can hire them the one brand of arc welding equipment tough enough to shrug off rough handling and careless operators.

That means Lincoln. Tough gear to beat.

Low maintenance, go-anywhere equipment that's proven itself time after time. Equipment that keeps on going long after the others give up.

Look into Lincoln today. Discover a whole family of sturdy, dependable arc welding equipment. From the mobile muscle of the mighty 400/500AS diesel welder. Through a comprehensive range of smaller welders and power sources, guns and accessories. To the versatile, low-cost Lincwelder 225, a handy all-rounder for welding and auxiliary power.

Take a Stihl Chainsaw for a walk.

The Stihl Cut Quik has a tough, two-stroke powerhead. It accepts a bar and chain, to tear through logs. Or a special abrasive cutting wheel that slices through steel.

Mount the Stihl Cut Quik on the special trolley and it becomes a real concrete cruncher. Or a tarmac tearer, an asbestos eater, a tin trimmer – even a steel slicer.

The Stihl Cut Quik. Just the kind of versatility you'd expect from Stihl, makers of the world's best chain saws. So see a Stihl Sales and Service Dealer now.
